

Children's Behavioral Health complies with all Federal civil rights laws that relate to healthcare services. Children's Behavioral Health offers healthcare services to all clients without regard to race, color, national origin, age, disability, or sex. Children's Behavioral Health does not exclude people or treat them differently because of race, color, national origin, age, disability, or sex. This includes gender identity, pregnancy and sex stereotyping.

To help you talk with us, Children's Behavioral Health provides services free of charge:

- Aids and services to people with disabilities
  - Skilled sign language interpreters
  - Written material in other formats (large print, audio, accessible electronic formats, Braille)
- Language services to people who speak another language or have limited English skills
  - Skilled interpreters
  - Written material translated in your language
  - Material that is simply written in plain language

If you need these services, contact your Case Manager at the office where you receive services.

If you think that Children's Behavioral Health failed to provide these services or treated you differently based on your race, color, national origin, age, disability, or sex, you can file a complaint. You can file a complaint in person, by mail, fax, or email. If you need help writing your complaint, we will help you. Call our Civil Rights Coordinator at (844) 852-4341, or TTY, 711.
